

TEATIME TUNESTERS — Elk Point Elementary School's Grade 1, 2 and 3 students entertained the huge crowd at the annual Grandparents Tea on Thursday with five cheerful songs, as the school celebrated the arrival of the week-long spring vacation.

School staff reductions looming

By Rob Desjardins

Staff Writer

Schools in the St. Paul Education Regional Division may be facing severe reductions in teaching staff in the next school year.

In a letter sent to parents this week, Racette School principal Dick Wirges said the board "anticipates the layoff of anywhere up to 30 teachers... (or) 12 per cent of the entire teaching staff" in the division.

While the board has not yet publicized its tentative budget, which will be refined at a meeting on April 15, secretary-treasurer Jean Champagne confirmed that "there is going to be cost-cutting."

However, he could not say whether the numbers in the Racette letter — up to 30 teachers, in response to "a budget shortfall in excess of $850,000 in the instructional block alone" — were accurate.

"After the 15th, we'll be able to give a much better idea. Right now, it hasn't been determined exactly what the cuts will be."

The board's budget woes stem mainly from lower projected enrolments, which mean less provincial funding for instruction in division schools. "It means that funding for the other (budgets) — operations and maintenance, transportation — is also going to go down," Champagne said.

"Administration funding is a percentage of everything else, so it will go down too."

In his letter, sent out with the Racette School newsletter on Tuesday, Wirges urged parents to lobby the provincial education department for more funds for the division.

"We're looking at a progression of cuts that would directly impact the kids," he said in an interview Thursday.

"We're looking at a potential loss of programs in the area of core French. I don't know what would happen to the native education program, and am also concerned the career and technology studies program will be cut back. I worry about our fine arts options."

"And what I'm most worried about is, what about services to students with special needs? We've developed a pretty advanced program for them that has been recognized across the province."

"Will larger, crowded classrooms, will teachers get any time to work with special-needs students?"

Champagne said the board is striving to make the cuts as painlessly as possible. "The reality is, though, there is only so much funding available per student. If costs go up and revenue goes down, it's not hard to determine what has to be done."

Ninety per cent of the division's instructional costs, he said, are staffing. And the other 10 per cent — which goes to things like classroom supplies and resources — "has already been pared to the bone. We're pretty much forced to look at staffing."

Speaking to the Journal on Thursday, ATA negotiator and Mallaig School teacher Bob Thorne said the teachers "are always concerned about losing instructional staff."

"It directly affects the kids in the classroom. It does look like it's going to be a big number, which means things don't look good for the fall."

Thorne said the budget situation won't affect current negotiations between the board and teachers "at all."

"If the board is making cuts, they would have made them anyway," he said. "It hasn't been the fact that the teachers have requested (a salary increase)."

Meanwhile, Wirges and members of Racette's school council hope their letter-writing campaign will make an impact on Education Minister Halvar Jonson.

"Alberta Education tends not to listen to teachers, principals or central office. But they do hear concerns raised by voters. The provincial election is next year, so they'd better listen."

"There are moral issues here, not just economic ones. We're talking about the welfare of our future generation."

Teen entrepreneur visits Chamber

Aaron Young, one of the young people involved in last year's "I Want To Be A Millionaire" Program sponsored by the St. Paul / Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation, was a special guest at the April meeting of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce. Aaron has spent two years in the program and calls his odd jobs business "Helping Hands."

Last year's program included a number of training workshops, which instructed the young entrepreneurs in advertising, promotion, marketing, customer service and record keeping, and Aaron felt "the training was really good." He now understands proper bookkeeping methods, and has a good knowledge of business management and proper business techniques, and customer service. "The better you treat your customers, the more business you will get." He said he had also heard good remarks on the training program from other participants.

Anne Himschoot of the SP/SL BCDC accompanied Aaron to the meeting, and brought along a slide presentation showing last year's participants at work. She told the Chamber that funding cuts mean that this year, the program will have to be community-driven if it is to go ahead, which will involve finding a sponsoring organization, a facilitator and financial support. She has visited several organizations in Elk Point, and to this point, has received support in principle and the offer of financial support from the Elk Point and District Lions Club. She noted that the facilitator doesn't necessarily have to have a business background, but can be anyone with good knowledge of the community and interested in working with young people.

Who's New in the Business Community

The Chamber was introduced to the Treasury Branch's new assistant manager, Laura Reed, who has replaced Ernie Scheelar, and who is originally from High Level, AB. Mrs Reed and her husband Danny are looking forward to living in Elk Point, and are currently looking for a home to rent.

Complimentary memberships will be delivered to several new businesses in Elk Point as the membership campaign gets underway. Florence's Country Crafts opened on Wednesday, while Ace Pizza and Grill was scheduled to open Friday.

Curt Svendsen reported that Elk Point has a new FCSS Director, Deanna Easthope, who started in her new role on March 18. Regarding physician recruitment, Svendsen said Mayor Buck made a presentation to the Lakeland Regional Health Authority asking for assistance, and is awaiting a reply.

Happy Daze are Coming

Retail Merchants Committee representative Barb Croteau announced that the Happy Daze Auto Show will be held on Saturday, June 1 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and that planning for the event is well underway.

A request for support was received from the Friends of the Alberta Seniors Games, and Sid Holthe noted that financing is needed, and that tax deductible receipts can be issued for contributions.

Looking Forward to Tourism Time

Dave Yake, who attended the Heart of the Lakeland Destination Marketing Organization meeting on the Chamber's behalf, reported briefly on that meeting, and told the Chamber that each community can belong to as many DMOs as they wish. He feels it would be beneficial to belong to both the Heart of the Lakeland and the Mid West Tourism Group, to maximize promotion of the community.

Heinsburg has a busy week with visitors and visits

By Fiona Daniels

Heinsburg Student Journalist

March 27 and 28 were busy days for Heinsburg School students. On March 27, the entire school took part in Multicultural Day. On March 28, some grades went on a field trip to Edmonton to see the Carnosaurs exhibit and to the Space and Science Centre.

Multicultural Day went well, both students and staff enjoyed the presentations about Japan, Trinidad and South Africa. The displays about Hong Kong, Malaysia, Japan, England, New Zealand and Australia were also enjoyed. The day ended with French Canadian dancers performing and inviting a number of students to join in.

For Ms Garnier's Grade 7

class as well as Mrs. Bintz's Grade 3 and 4 classes, the fun did not stop on Wednesday. These classes, as well as myself, CJ Best, Jamie Bristow and Trish Keast were fortunate enough to attend the field trip to Edmonton. We started the trip at the Carnosaur exhibit at the Provincial Museum where the students were able to see how dinosaurs looked and what their natural environment would have been like.

As for the rest of the trip, our next stop was at the Space and Science Centre where we saw an Imax movie as well as a variety of scientific displays.

As a supervisor of the field trip, I found it very interesting and thought it was educational for the students. Our Multicultural Day was also interesting and enlightening. Thank you to all the people who came to Heinsburg to help make this day a success.

ST. PAUL's LES TOURBILLONS -- Were an enjoyable addition to the Multicultural Day at Heinsburg School, as they demonstrated a number of old time dances, and even got the students and staff to join in the fun.

What is the purpose of Family and Community Support Services?

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

The FCSS Regulation says the program must: 1) Promote volunteerism; 2) be preventive, in order to: - enhance, strengthen and stabilize family and community life; - improve people's ability to identify and act on their own needs; - help avert family or community social breakdown; - help prevent small problems from turning into crises; - provide citizens with information about its planning and operation; - use clearly identified needs and effective planning as the basis for services provided; and - encourage co-operation and coordination with other service agencies in the community.

Thus, in summary, the main purpose of FCSS is to promote volunteerism and be preventive in nature. How do the two work together? Volunteers are the people who with their helping hands help people to help themselves and by so doing, a community people crisis is prevented. Volunteers come from every walk of life but share one distinctive characteristic. Each volunteer freely chooses to serve the community without any expectation of personal monetary gain. Volunteers are known for their commitment, enthusiasm and caring.

Do you know a person who volunteers or are you a volunteer yourself? In our community of Elk Point we have many volunteers and they do many different things for our community. Without them, our community would be a different place to live. Take time to express your thanks and appreciation to the person you know who is a volunteer. Volunteers are special people who are the heart and lifeline of our community.

*One hundred years from now,
it will not matter
What kind of car I drove,
What kind of house I lived in,
How much I had in my bank account,
Nor what my clothes looked like.*

*But the world may be a little better
Because I was important in the life of another.*

Volunteers - our greatest natural resource

Volunteer Week will be celebrated throughout the province the week of April 22 - 26, 1996.

With support from the Wildrose Foundation and Volunteer Alberta, FCSS will host a week long contest in support of local volunteers.

The County and Town Family and Community Support Services will be sponsoring a registration package to Vitalize '96, the Provincial Volunteer Conference, valued at $250.

This package will include the conference registration, 2 nights accommodation at the Hilton and free Hop-A-Bus service to the Convention Centre (all meals and entertainment are included with the conference registration).

Vitalize '96 will be hosted June 6, 7 and 8 in Edmonton. The cost is minimal with support from the Wildrose Foundation through Alberta Lotteries.

The contest, supported by 1310 Country and the St. Paul Journal will allow individuals the opportunity to share information about their volunteerism in our communities on the Danny White Morning Show. Listen throughout the week and call, your name will be entered for the Grand Prize, "Vitalize." Good luck!

For further information, call Linnette Newby at 645-1950.

Faith

Denial -- it still goes on

By Rev. Sam Donaldson

Christian Community Church

We have celebrated Easter. For some it is a holiday, a welcome break from one's weekly toil. For children, a time of eggs and bunnies. For the Christian community, a celebration of the resurrection of Jesus from the dead.

Immediately after that momentous event, on the first Easter Sunday, plans were put into operation to discredit the witnesses and deny the resurrection.

This was orchestrated by the Jewish authorities in bribing the soldiers, who guarded the tomb, to spread the lies that Jesus' disciples had come and stolen the body while they slept. This fabrication was still being circulated when Matthew wrote his gospel (Mat. 28:11-15)

There are those today, in both the secular and sacred society, who still deny the bodily resurrection of our Lord. There have been attempts to find the garden tomb and the bones of the Rabbi from Nazareth for the specific purpose of proving the resurrection to be fiction.

On the radio last week it was stated that an antique dealer had discovered three caskets in an antique dealer's store. No big deal, except that there were names on the caskets, Joseph, Mary and Jesus.

Does this not seem strange that the caskets should bear these names? Is it not strange that they should be found the week before Easter? Is this an interesting discovery or is it another subtle denial of the resurrection?

This may be an actual find of three caskets. They may bear the names Joseph, Mary and Jesus. But the true fact is "that Christ has indeed been raised from the dead." (1 Cor. 15:20)

Don't let stories, or even real caskets, cause you to doubt. The denial -- it still goes on. It will go on. My friends, Jesus is risen, He is alive.

Laboratory and radiology (x-ray) services available

This diagnostic department provides routine and emergency services. Our hours are 7 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., Monday through Friday. There is a technician on call after hours and on weekends for emergencies.

We provide testing for our local physicians as well as all physicians in the Region (ie. St. Paul, Bonnyville).

To have your testing done here, we require an order from a physician. We recommend that you phone for an appointment, if possible, to provide you with quicker service, less waiting time, and so that we may give you proper preparation instructions for your tests (ie. FASTING work, such as Glucose and Lipid Profile).

All basic lab testing is done in our facility, such as CBC (complete blood counts), Urinalysis, Glucose and Prothrombin Time testing. Basic X-ray exams such as spines, chests, extremities are done here.

Any procedures for lab that cannot be done here are sent to Bonnyville with a one to two day turn-around time. Any special X-ray such as stomach or gall bladder are sent to a surrounding facility. We have direct access to reporting through FAX and E-mail service to and from Bonnyville and University of Alberta Lab and our Radiology Services.

We are staffed at present with three combined Lab/X-ray Technicians Agnes, Val and Lori. A CLXT (Combined Lab and X-Ray Technician) is trained to do all three disciplines, Lab, X-ray and ECG. This training provides cost efficient, qualified staffing from a rural Alberta setting.

If you have questions or concerns regarding the Lab and Radiology Department, or any procedures you are to come for, please feel free to contact us at 724-3847, Ext. 118 or 119.

Nutrition Notes

Reading food labels

Grocery shopping can be so much fun, as you try and decide which foods are the healthiest choices for you and your family. There are many packages and brands with all sorts of information on the packages. What should you buy?

Here is a guide to reading food labels:

In Canada it is optional for companies to use a nutrition claim on the label. All claims must follow government laws.

1. Calorie reduced - means this food has 50% or fewer calories than the regular version of the food.

2. Low calorie - means the product is calorie reduced and there are no more than 15 calories per serving. However, check serving size, it may be quite small.

3. Sugar free - means the food is low in carbohydrates and calories. It can be used as an 'extra' for diabetics.

4. Low fat - means the food has no more than 3 grams of fat per serving.

Fine Arts students hit the stage at Elk Point Elementary

Last week it was the Skunk Creek Op'ry, this week it was a bunch of fresh young faces who graced the stage at Elk Point Elementary School, as the after-school drama class participants presented their Fine Arts Night.

The students produced five excellent short plays. The first was entitled "Home Management," and showed some of the joys of being a homemaker. When the systematic housewife he is visiting is called away suddenly, a home management encyclopedia salesman is pressed into service as a babysitter and cake-watcher, and is beset by so many other door-to-door salesmen he wonders how the average housewife can stand it. He decides the dear lady he is visiting doesn't need his books—instead, she should write one on how to deal with pesky salesmen.

The second play, "Toy Guns" also had a housewife as its heroine. This time, the lady of the house is counting proceeds from a volunteer event when a travelling salesman "accidentally" packs a hundred dollar bill in his briefcase. With the help of a toy gun she had been telling her son not to play with, she holds the hapless salesman at bay until the authorities arrive.

A far-off palace is the scene of the third play, about "The Princess Who Believed Everything." And she did — from the moon being green cheese to the farmer's son who told her his father's barn was so big the moon blew into the loft window. She believed every word he said — until he said her father wore his nightgown to church and took six coins out of the collection plate. The king, far from being upset with this disparagement, was pleased to accept the young man as his daughter's husband to be.

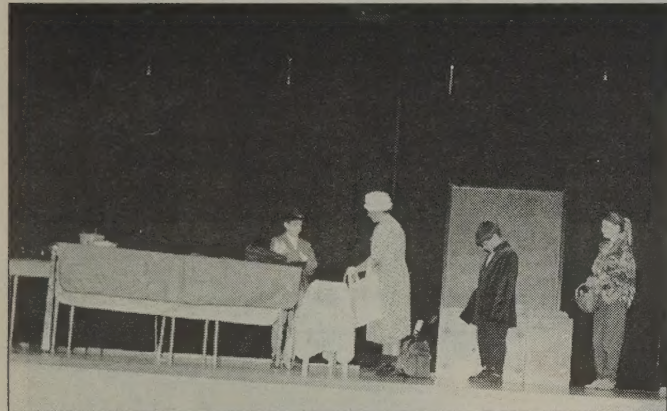

"An Official Visit" from the School Board is enough to make any teacher quake — and the teacher in Play #4 is horrified to find her students don't know all the answers. And why is the board here anyway? Could it be to find the batchelor board member a wife???

The final play starts off at the Ladies' Aid meeting. They want to know what awful things go on at the Men's Club, so they plan "A Visit Of Inspection." Little do they know that they burst in on a Liars' Contest, and the sugary compliments the last speaker is heaping on his little wife are a long way from the truth!

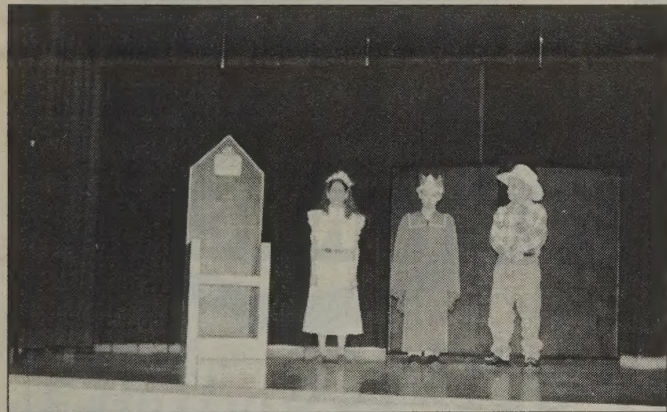

The five drama productions were directed by Mrs. Bernice Capjack-Hugo, with the assistance of Don Buryn. The young stars included: Brandi Becker, Megan Bergstrom, Bronwyn Bilak, Leanne Bjornstad, Jonathan Buryn, Melissa Breen, George Danyluk, Michelle Friesen, Valerie Friesen, Alyssa Fry, Alison Hammond, Stephen Kozina, Carissa Maksymec, Kevin Moneta, Kristy Myshaniuk, Maureen Myshaniuk, Amy Olstad, Amie Patroch, David Ramful, Dana Tymofichuk, Leanne Wilson, Jaylynn Wirsta, Dayna Yaremkevich and Tasha Yopyk.

Artwork from two other after-school programs, Watercolor, instructed by Mrs. Donna Chamberland, and Pencil Sketching, instructed by Mrs. Terry Hebblethwaite, was on display at both the Fine Arts Night and the Grandparents Tea. Both ladies volunteered their time to instruct the programs.

SALESMAN GETS A DOSE OF HIS OWN MEDICINE -- in a hilarious playlet entitled "Home Management."

AND THEN THERE'S THE PRINCESS who believes everything, and wants some of the moon's green cheese in her sandwich...

SPEAKING OF THE TRUTH, there isn't much of that around when the Liars Contest hits the stage at the Men's Club meeting. But as long as the visiting ladies think there is, it's A-OK with the fellows.

RETIREE RAY HAMMOND (above) was presented with a gift by Union representative Brian Bailey. Below, Bailey congratulates recent retiree John Evtushevski.

Retirees honored

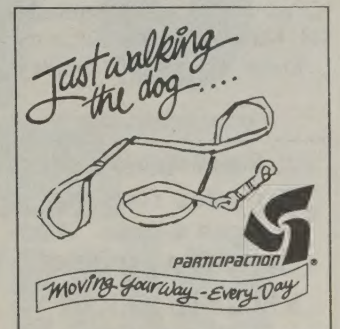

Two longtime employees of Canadian Salt Company Limited were honored by their co-workers March 23 at a retirement party at the Windsor Club.

Ray Hammond, who had worked at the plant for 44 years and 7 months, was presented with a handsome gift and a lifetime membership by Chemical, Energy and Paperworkers Union president Brian Bailey at the gathering.

Reminiscences of Hammond's experiences at the plant included his one and only ride on the newly installed freight elevator. The device stopped between floors and Hammond discovered the alarm bell worked just fine—although his co-workers wondered what the funny noise was. Another incident Hammond well remembered was when a gas valve came apart, spewing gas and causing the furnace room to fill with fire. Hammond was trapped, but escaped through an impossibly small hole in the brick wall.

Also honored at the party was John Evtushevski, who retired last year after 17 years of employment at the salt plant.

Heritage Lodge to honor their valuable volunteers

By Tracy Kjenner

Elk Point Heritage Lodge

How quickly time flies when you're having fun, and much fun can be had with the help of volunteers!

Once again, the residents of Heritage Lodge would like to extend many thanks to those people who have volunteered at the lodge, in one form or another, over the past year.

Volunteers certainly are most welcome rays of bright sunshine in our days. It is a pleasure to see your faces and feel the understanding and caring you have to offer.

The residents of the lodge would like to share their appreciation with you — our ever-needed volunteers. In an attempt to thank you for the many great deeds done throughout the year, we will be hosting a Volunteer Appreciation Celebration at the lodge on Saturday, April 13 from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. We would like to provide you with a short program and then share some time visiting with you. If you have volunteered at Heritage Lodge in the past year, please accept this as your invitation to attend the Volunteer Appreciation Celebration.

Curling Club hosts awards banquet

Elk Point Curling Club held their 1995-96 windup on Saturday, March 30 at the Seniors Recreation Centre, starting off with a sumptuous banquet.

Awards for the season's top curling teams were next on the agenda, with Steve Penz and his rinkmates edging out Craig Lee for top honors in the Men's League. Murray Babcock's foursome took the trophies in the "A" side of the Mixed League, while Art Britton's rink won the "B" side. Special recognition was given to Danny Flett, Sheldon Ballas, Craig Lee and Justin Conrad, who won the St. Paul Athletic Association curling banner, and were named Junior Curlers of the Year.

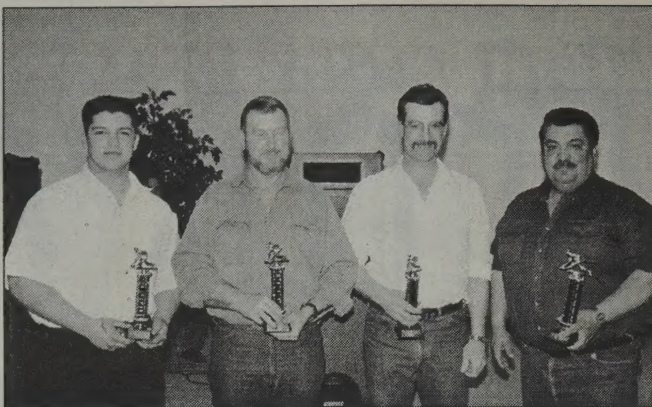

Curling Club President Leonard Gadowski thanked the executive - Steve Penz, Judi Babcock, Craig Lee, Curtis Porcina, Glenn Flanders and Doug Rutherford -- for all their help during the year, and gave special thanks to Susan MacKinnon, who stepped in to help the club when Glenn Flanders was injured in a farm accident.

The Club's raffle draw was held during the evening, with James Holmedal of Lloydminster the big winner of $2000, Gaby Bayduza of Elk Point winning $500, and Rose Belton of St. Paul winning the $250 prize.

New youth books for Easter Break enjoyment

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

For all you young folks who are in the midst of a week-long holiday (no wonder they call this time the best years of your lives), here are a few more new

Gospel quartet to visit

The well-known Kingsmen Quartet will be coming to Elk Point for a concert on March 13 at 7 p.m. in the Elk Point Elementary School gym. Those who have heard this male gospel group assure you that you will be treated to an evening of great entertainment. This group has recorded many tapes and travelled all over the world. A free will offering will be taken. Bring a friend and enjoy a great evening.

books at the library.

Mick was one of the neatest kids you'd ever want to meet and when he is killed in a bicycling accident, his sister's life is turned upside down in Mick Harte Was Here by Barbara Park.

In Stop the Presses, Ida Mae! by Mary Blakeslee, Ida Mae and her two friends are given the chance to write for the school newspaper. Ida Mae again finds herself in the spotlight when she gains an undeserved reputation as a fortune teller.

We also have a few new offerings in our juvenile series:

Kristy worries that becoming Bart's girlfriend will ruin their friendship in Kristy + Bart = ? from Baby-sitters Club.

Karen and her family visit a tropical island in Karen's Island Adventure from Baby-sitters Little Sister.

Sadie, the new puppy is very sweet but she is also a lot of work in Karen's New Puppy from Baby-sitters Little Sister.

The girls earn some extra money by taking care of other people's horses in Horse-sitters from The Saddle Club.

The only way the boys' basketball team will get their cheerleaders back is if they become the cheerleaders at the girls' basketball games in The Battle of the Cheerleaders from Sweet Valley Twins.

Jake and Nog find themselves trapped on a forbidden planet and must complete a quest in order to be able to leave in Gypsy World by Ted Pedersen from Star Trek: Deep Space Nine.

Medical Cadet Beverly Howard finds herself one mistake away from being thrown out of Starfleet Academy in Loyalties by Patricia Barnes-Svarney from Star Trek: The Next Generation: Starfleet Academy.

Bess lands a part in a new mystery play and soon it appears that the mystery won't just be on the stage in Rehearsing for Romance from the Nancy Drew Files.

Joe enlists the help of his brother in discovering who may be framing the attractive new chemistry teacher for murder in Bad Chemistry from the Hardy Boys Casefiles.

DID YOU KNOW:

No one knows how April got its name. Some think it comes from Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love. Others believe it is from the Latin Aperire meaning "to open." (Personally, I like last week's possibility better).
